Social rules for the group:

- We will try to have two larger meetings during every week, if that is too much it will be reduced to one.
- We will try to have meetings around 10.00 a clock if possible to avoid people from being late.
- Everyone is responsible for taking equal part of solving the project.
- During meetings we will make sure that all group members is feeling comfortable about the group dynamic.

Basic rules for the group:

- Any group member that shows up more than 10 minutes late will be responsible for Friday-sweets.
- An important aspect is communication between the members so everyone knows what is expected.
- Let other people in the group know if you experience any trouble and ask help to solve the problem.
- We will do all work in the weekdays, if there should be a crisis we will solve that during the weekends.

Technical rules for the group:

- To communicate between members we will be using Slack. Everyone is responsible for being up to date.
- We will be using Google-Drive for all shared files.
- For meetings there will be a specific protocol template to be filled in.
- All official documents for the group will be uploaded to the Git repository.
- Group will follow a collectively agreed code manifest
